THE DIRECTION IN WHICH EDUCATION STARTS A MAN WILL DETERMINE HIS FUTURE IN LIFE.

~PLATO

OBJECTIVES

- Understand how the CTL works as a course to course transfer
- Relate the STGEC to the CTL
- Recognize that the STGEC is a block transfer
- Know that the STGEC is based on competencies not courses.

CORE TRANSFER LIBRARY

- The Core Transfer Library (CTL) was established by Indiana Code in 2005.
- Purpose -- to meet the general education or free elective requirements of undergraduate degree programs, and a significant majority of CTL courses will also count as one-on-one equivalents to courses taught at the receiving campus
- Is a list of courses that will transfer among all Indiana public college and university campuses, assuming adequate grades.

CORE TRANSFER LIBRARY

- Currently there are 88 courses
- Supervised by the State Transfer and Articulation Committee (STAC)
- Review process is rigorous and thorough
 - Conducted by faculty members
 - Courses are reviewed on a cyclical basis or when substantial changes occur in the subject area
- After the faculty review process, all CTL agreements are approved by each of the institutions chief academic officers.

STGEC

- SEA 182 (2012)
- Purpose – enables a student who satisfactorily completes an approved program of general education in any one of those institutions to transfer that coursework to any other state educational institution as a block of 30 credit hours towards the general education core requirements.

STGEC

- Based on core competencies
- Satisfactory completion of the STGEC must be included on the student's transcript

SO, HOW DO THESE WORK TOGETHER?

- Some of the institutions have the majority of the STGEC composed of CTL courses. Others have a much larger pool of courses that meet the competencies.
- If a student completes the STGEC, it transfers as a block of credit.
- If a student does not complete the STGEC, it becomes a course-by-course transfer. If the courses are CTL courses, the student has the advantage of those courses most generally being accepted in transfer.
